Chord figure = column degree + row intervals (e.g., col 5 × row 333 → figure 5333 = $\mathbf{V}7$).

Key

Upper = major (I,IV,V)
Lower = minor (ii,iii,vi)
Δ = major 7th
$^{+}8$ = root doubled at 8ve
$^{\circ}$ = diminished
$^{\varnothing}7$ = half-dim
7 = dominant 7th
$s4^{+}8$ = sus4 w/ doubled root
q = quartal
$s2/s4$ = sus2/sus4
$6/m6$ = major/minor 6th
^{1,2,3} = inversion

Creating the Chord Figure

333 / 5333 = intervals / deg+intervals
5333 = deg 5, three thirds = $\mathbf{V}7$
1233 = deg 1, 2nd+2 thirds = $\mathbf{I}\Delta^{1}$
1433 = deg 1, 4th+2 thirds = $\mathbf{I}s4^{+}8$

How to read. Rows are voicing shapes (generic intervals bottom-up: 2=2nd, 3=3rd, 4=4th). Columns are diatonic degrees 1–7. A cell is the Roman-numeral chord that results (case = major/minor; suffix = quality). A figure concatenates column-degree + row-intervals (5333 = $\mathbf{V}7$). Superscripts 1/2/3 mark inversion (bass chord tone). — = non-diatonic. To voice a chord ($\mathbf{G}7$ in $\mathbf{C}$): express as Roman ($\mathbf{V}7$), find the cell, stack the row intervals from the bass note.

The Feedback Loop — every rep

Plan a specific target (not "play it better" — "keep the LH thumb on the string until the RH starts"), play honestly at thinking-tempo, evaluate strictly (90%=success, 50%=info), adjust one variable before the next rep.

The 90/10 Principle

To nail a skill at 100%, push a harder related skill to 90%: speak finger numbers while arpeggiating, practice the cascade in reverse, do crescendos on a flat passage. When you drop the extra layer the target runs on less effort.

Five Axes of Difficulty

Raise one axis, lower another, cycle: Length (bar→phrase→piece) · Complexity (one hand→two→add cascade) · Depth (phrasing, dynamics, tone) · Speed (last, and the most overused) · Mental endurance.

3-4-2-1 Session Order

Rank L1 (automatic) → L4 (impossible). Go L3→L4→L2→L1: L3 warm-up demands focus; L4 while sharpest; L2 as attention fades; L1 last for cruise-mode review. Never start with L1 — it sets your brain to autopilot.
